

The Globalization and Social Change Initiative presents

Critical Globalizations: A Lecture Series

William Robinson

Professor, Sociology, Global and International Studies, and Latin American Studies
University of California-Santa Barbara

Global Crisis: Six Urgent Matters for Humanity

Humanity is facing an unprecedented crisis. Wars and social violence, ecological collapse, escalating inequalities, mass poverty and marginalization, the specter of a global police state, and an out of control corporate economy. Can we survive? This lecture will discuss the crisis of humanity from a critical sociological lens and explore possible solutions to our plight.

Wednesday, April 6, 2016 | 4:10 p.m. | STEPS 101

Co-sponsor: Department of Sociology and Anthropology

LEHIGH
UNIVERSITY

Office of Interdisciplinary Programs
31 Williams Hall, Suite 101
610-758-3996 • incasip@lehigh.edu

